Baird Holm LLP Welcomes Benjamin E. Busboom

August 24, 2017 (OMAHA, Neb.) - Baird Holm LLP is pleased to welcome Benjamin E. Busboom to the Firm. Ben is a business attorney with environmental and energy roots who regularly assists his clients through traditional transactional endeavors such as real estate transactions, business organizations, contract disputes, and mergers and acquisitions. Additionally, Ben draws on his unique tenure as both an environmental consultant and as an environmental attorney to assist clients with environmentally specific matters. Ben's services regularly include proactively guiding his clients through permitting processes or around environmental risks. He also retroactively assists his clients by resolving regulatory compliance issues, penalty proceedings, liability disputes, and enforcement actions.

Prior to moving back to his home state of Nebraska and joining Baird Holm, Ben worked for a Fortune 500 energy company, an international engineering firm, and an AmLaw 200 law firm. Ben's legal work within the environmental and energy industry was recently recognized by Super Lawyers who named him a "Rising Star" in 2017.

"Ben brings great energy to the Firm," said Baird Holm Managing Partner, Richard E. Putnam. "His relocation to Omaha provides us a strategic opportunity for further growth in key segments of our business while satisfying the needs of our existing clients. We are thrilled to have him."
